ARTIFICIAL CLIMBING WALL

Participants can experience the thrill and satisfaction of reaching the top on our climbing wall. We offer a 7-metre climbing structure located at the training ground, featuring four routes with varying levels of difficulty.

We provide fully certified climbing equipment, including helmets, harnesses and ropes, as well as professional belaying and expert instruction.

Contraindication: fear of heights.

QUAD BIKING

The impressive off-road capabilities of quad bikes, combined with their power, speed and durability, create endless opportunities for adventure, fun and friendly competition.
We invite you to ride on a specially designed quad bike track. Safe and free of trees - the biggest hazard for these machines - the track is highly technical and full of unexpected challenges, guaranteeing an unforgettable experience. Banked turns and natural terrain dips create an engaging yet safe environment for riders of all levels. The track layout is suitable for both beginners and experienced drivers.

Upon request, we can also prepare a dedicated track at a location specified by your group.

We provide machines from renowned manufacturers, including Honda and Yamacha. Before riding, every participant receives a safety briefing and training, as well as a disposable sweat-absorbing head covering and helmet.

OFF-ROAD

We invite you to explore the mountains along routes that you may not have the opportunity to experience every day. And that is just the beginning.
An off-road adventure is about much more than driving a 4×4 vehicle. It is a challenge that tests both the participants and the vehicle, requiring creative solutions for tackling difficult terrain. It is also an opportunity to work together as a team and build strong, positive relationships among participants.

We have prepared several routes, ranging from gentle, highly scenic trails to demanding off-road courses. Along the way, participants may be challenged to build a log bridge across a ravine or navigate vehicles through muddy terrain using the winches and ropes carried in the vehicles.

Our vehicles are equipped with front and rear roll bars, MUD TERRAIN or SIMEX tyres, increased ground clearance and reinforced suspension. They also feature hi-lift jacks, shackle sets, recovery straps, as well as kinetic and static ropes.
At least one vehicle in each group is equipped with a winch.
Routes and the difficulty level of individual challenges are carefully selected according to the participants' skills and experience.
Participant safety is supervised by experienced BC Cross instructors with extensive backgrounds in motorsports, including licensed rally drivers.

Shooting stations are an ideal activity for those seeking excitement, precision and friendly competition.

Professional supervision and a variety of challenges ensure a safe and engaging experience, creating lasting memories for participants regardless of their previous experience.

SPORT SHOOTING RANGE

Sport rifle shooting is both an enjoyable activity and a great way to practise focus and concentration.
Available for your group are four rifled air rifles equipped with optical sights, as well as CO_2-powered pellet pistols.

ARCHERY RANGE

The archery range is supervised by our qualified instructors, and all shooting stations are secured with protective netting. Each station accommodates one participant at a time.
Three types of bows are available: traditional English longbows, recurve sport bows and compound bows.

TEAM BUILDING TRAINING

A combination of fun, an adrenaline rush and learning about teamwork. Based on the tasks performed by the group, it is possible to assess cooperation, division of roles, trust, motivation and communication within the team. Team-building training sessions are not randomly selected games — they have their own logic and structure.
They allow participants to develop cooperation skills, build team relationships, get to know one another better and create positive relationships among team members.

The team's task is to overcome a dangerous mountain ridge together. A special device placed in front of the participants is used to complete the task. Anyone who falls from the ridge will cause the entire team to be eliminated. Good cooperation, commitment and shared responsibility are the keys to success.

FOREST SWAMPS

The group's task is to find a way through the "cursed swamps". There is only one correct path through the swamps. Team members must cooperate as closely as possible to find it. Another important element is the division of roles and awareness of those roles. The task is timed.

TANGRAMS

The task is to recreate a pattern indicated by the instructor. A tangram consists of 7 pieces, all of which must be used, while remembering that the pieces may not be placed on top of one another. Before the task begins, the trainer gives all participants the patterns to recreate. Contrary to appearances, the task is not as easy as it may initially seem!

MEGA SLINGSHOT

For most people, shooting a slingshot brings back memories of childhood and fun. In this competition, using a mega slingshot, participants try to score as many points as possible by catching a ball launched from the slingshot. An activity that strongly promotes team integration.

The programme begins with welcoming the Guests, explaining the rules and dividing participants into 5 teams. Each group chooses its captain, team name, battle cry and task cards, according to which they move between designated stations. During the individual tasks, teams earn points awarded by the instructors. The points are recorded on special score sheets. The team that completes the most tasks and earns the most points wins.

The activities do not require any special physical fitness, but rather good teamwork, and can be completed regardless of the participants' age, gender or level of physical fitness.

HIGHLANDER CHALLENGES

The local highlanders called the tournament led by the Great Beskid Bandit Ondraszek "Zbojowanie."

Those brave enough to take on the challenge and win the tournament as a team earned the honourable title of Wisła Bandits and were welcomed into Ondraszek's band.
As a reward, he presented them with a true treasure of the bandit lands — the one-of-a-kind, traditional honey liqueur known as miodula.

Your team will be divided into several bandit gangs, each setting off from a different point along a trail where various bandit challenges await. At every station, Ondraszek's bandits will carefully observe the teams and award points for their performance. Only one gang will earn the honourable title of Bandits and be rewarded with the traditional bandit drink, Miodula.
The activities do not require any special physical abilities. Instead, they focus on teamwork and cooperation, making them accessible to participants of all ages, genders and fitness levels.
The proposed challenges will put every aspiring bandit to the test!
Calling all brave souls — HEJ!!!

LUMBERJACK COMPETITION

Teams have 20 minutes to saw through as many wooden blocks as possible using a traditional two-person hand saw. The blocks must be no more than 3 cm thick. Two participants operate the saw while the rest of the team hold the stand and log in place. Team members may switch roles after each cut. The final score is determined by the number of slices cut.

THE STRONGEST GAZDA

A test of upper-body strength. One by one, each bandit must hold the traditional highlander strength tester with their arms extended out to the sides for as long as possible. The challenge is timed, and the participant who holds it the longest wins.

HIGHLANDER SKITTLES

Long ago, the Beskid bandits invented a game that Americans later named "bowling." The rules are exactly the same as in traditional skittles, but players use wooden logs instead of bowling balls.

TUG OF WAR

Two teams compete to pull a rope in opposite directions, testing their strength, coordination and teamwork. Tug of war was an official Olympic sport from 1900 to 1920.

FELT SLIPPER THROW

The challenge is to throw a traditional felt slipper as far as possible from a designated spot. The winner is the participant who achieves the longest throw.

SUMMER HORSE-DRAWN CARRIAGE RIDE

A summer horse-drawn carriage ride through the picturesque Beskid Mountains, perfect for a relaxed outdoor team-building experience.

The experience can be enhanced with a live highlander folk band or additional entertainment, including a bandit ambush featuring challenges and competitions. CAR BUILDING

An interactive team-building activity consisting of three stages. Participants are divided into teams that compete against each other in a series of team challenges, embracing the spirit of fair play.
The goal is not only to build their own car, but above all to develop teamwork, creativity, work organisation and the ability to collaborate effectively.

STAGE 1 – COLLECTING BUILDING MATERIALS

This stage involves a series of team-building challenges in which teams earn points that can later be used to purchase the components needed to build their dream car.
The available components may include steering wheels, lights, coloured paper, glue, car seats, retro-style seats inspired by Poland's communist era, windscreen wipers and other decorative elements.

STAGE 2 – BUILDING THE CAR

Each team receives a set of materials needed to create their own dream car. The challenge tests participants' creativity, teamwork, organisational skills and ability to delegate tasks effectively within the group.
